Request to Bypass Stafford Loan in Favor of Alternative Private Educational Loan

I am requesting that the University of Maine at Fort Kent certify an Alternative Private Educational Loan for me instead of a Stafford Loan, even though I could be eligible for a Stafford Loan if I were to complete the federal process.

I have been counseled and I understand that there are advantages to a Stafford Loan over an Alternative, Private educational loan:

1. Stafford Loans are at a fixed interest rate (6% Subsidized and 6.8% Unsubsidized) while Alternative Private loans are variable rate loans, most with no upper level cap.
2. Stafford Loans carry deferment, forbearance and death and disability benefits that may not be available from an Alternative Private loan.
3. Stafford Loans do not require the borrower to pass a credit check, but Alternative Private loans do require a credit check and, in some cases, a co-signer.
4. Subsidized Stafford Loans do not accrue interest during the period the student is enrolled in school.
